Full job description

Your new company
Your new role will see you work for a department who is focused on supporting Australian businesses and sustainable economic growth.

Your new role
You'll be apart of a team who provide a range of services, with the specific testing requirements as follows:

- Create and oversee test plans and strategies including test plans using Azure DevOps
- Write, review and execute test cases on web-based applications
- Work within multi-disciplinary project teams to analyse documented specifications, user stories and requirements to generate test cases and test plans
- Raise defects / issues and log and track faults using Departmental tools including Azure DevOps
- Testing digital solutions for conformance to Web Content Accessibility

Guidelines (WCAG)
- Lead and engage with Business Stakeholders throughout the User Acceptance Testing (UAT) Process

What you'll need to succeed

You will need the following:

- Ability to collaborate and work productively within a cross functional team of Product Owners, Business Analysts, Architects, Application developers, Web Developers and Subject Matter Experts
- Expertise in developing test artefacts, including writing, reviewing and executing complex test plans and cases and developing test strategies
- Ability to work in a fast paced, agile, environment with geographically dispersed teams
- A thorough knowledge or understanding in testing digital solutions for Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) conformance.
- Experience developing test plans/cases for custom applications, including the Azure and Microsoft suite of products and services
- Baseline Clearance

What you'll get in return

You will get the opportunity to be a part of a leading department with a stable budget and project portfolio. You we will signed on to a 12 month contract, with another 2 x 12 month contract extension available at client discretion.
